

Michigan Assistive Technology Program (MATP)

What is Assistive Technology (AT)?

Assistive Technology (AT) is anything that makes it easier for people with disabilities/older adults to do things: jar openers, magnifiers, bathing and dressing devices, memory helpers, cooking aides, and more!

MATP Services

MATP provides access and information on low-tech and high-tech AT device options available for people with disabilities.

MATP helps people with disabilities gain access to Assistive Technology devices that can assist with:

- vision loss
- cooking / eating
- reading
- organizing
- communication
- calendar reminders
- connecting with friends and family
- mental health
- outdoor recreation
- gaming
- crafting
- parenting
- gardening

MATP is a free program for people with disabilities, by people with disabilities.

We offer a lending library with a wide variety of devices.

We provide trainings on how to use AT devices. Short- and long-term loans of AT are available to help identify what works and what doesn't work.
